

Fishing on the Armu River

For you serious anglers, we offer a splendid fishing tour on the Armu River, running at 3-4 mph through pristine taiga in northern Primorye.

The key attraction is the Hucho Taimen, "Master of Siberian rivers" (150 pounds, over 6 ft long). Other fish (lenoks, maksoon, graylings) are smaller, but compensate in number what they lack in size. You can expect 50-150 grayling hits a day.

All spinning and flyfishing techniques are suitable but remember that you will be fishing in fast streams. We offer you to try "mouse" fishing to catch Taimen. This unique local method simulates the frantic movements of a mouse fallen into the water to attract trout and taimen and offers an unparalleled fishing experience.

The golden season for fishing and exploring the Taiga lasts between mid-September and early November.
